Introduction by the Bureau of Marine Water Monitoring

Description of the regulatory changes requested

1. The ability to make classification changes for shellfish growing waters in a more efficient manner. Shellfish waters descriptions would be moved out of the regulations and placed into a separate public document which could be changed with sufficient public notice.
2. Changing the delineation of the shellfish growing waters from a description using landmarks to GPS coordinates.
3. Incorporating shellfish gardening requirements into the regulations. A consistent methodology for considering shellfish gardening applications with standard provisions for monitoring, addressing human health, and enforcement issues.
